H E R A L D

As we, the Class of 1996, reflect upon our past four years at Windsor Locks High School, we realize that there has always been one teacher who has continually stood out as our role-model and mentor. As a National Honor Society advisor he celebrated academic excellence and reminded us of its inherent responsibilities. Through Student Council he taught us to govern and support the members of our school and to build a community of caring, responsible individuals. In SADD he encouraged us to promote activities which deter students from drinking and driving. As a teacher he gave us insight to the history of the world and had a special knack for making the past come alive. He was a counselor we could count on for advice and a friend we could lean on for support. He was always there to help us make the right decision, and he proved that we can make a difference by standing up for what we believe.

Through all his involvement, this one man has respected us, understood us, guided us, and laughed with us. We could always rely on him for a ready smile and a friendly hello. For all his work and devotion, we proudly dedicate the 1996 Herald to Mr. Leonard Stine.

Thank you, Mr. Stine, and God bless the mints!

the 1996 Herald to

Mr. Leonard Stine

As our senior year draws to a close, we, the Class of 1996, reflect upon our years here at Windsor Locks High School. We realize that our experiences these past four years have changed each and every one of us and have made us the individuals we are today.

Entering as freshmen, we were anxious about what high school would entail. Meeting new people, facing new and challenging courses, and becoming involved with new clubs and teams were all part of the process of establishing ourselves as a fundamental part of Windsor Locks High School. The initial imprint we made mirrored the emotions, experiences, and memories of our freshman year. As we approached our sophomore year, there was a mirror behind us, reflecting our first year of high school.

Having experienced one year of high school, we entered our sophomore year with more confidence. We looked forward to a year full of games, concerts, parties, and studying (yeah right!). Throughout the year we continued to develop our scholastic, musical, and athletic abilities. As we neared the end of our sophomore year, we found that once again, the mirror was there, reflecting the achievements of a year gone by and marking the beginning of our junior year.

We began our junior year with high hopes and expectations. Taking the SAT's, applying for jobs, and driving were all distinguishing aspects of our junior year. Our determination drove us to reach many of our goals; winning the soccer State championship, creating the perfect prom, and performing a triumphant musical concert in Florida all made our junior year a success. Reflecting upon the year, we realized we were ready to assume our positions as leaders of the Windsor Locks High School.

As seniors, we feel a deep sense of pride in the Class of 1996. The people we have become mirror our individual and collective learning experiences of the past four years. As we eagerly prepare to move on to a new phase of our lives, we know that we must always look foward, but we will never forget to glimpse into the mirror that reflects the part of us we left behind at Windsor Locks High School.

Sunset on the South Pacific

When we first started preparations for our junior prom, we each had our doubts about how we would ever be able to convert the gymnasium into a tropical utopia. The Prom Committee devoted their time to plan, construct, and transform our high school gymnasium into a "Sunset on the South Pacific." As a class, we worked with enthusiasm to create an island paradise. When our prom finally arrived, we looked with awe upon our handiwork as we were transported onto the magical island of our dreams. Our first steps onto the island were breathtaking; the water cascading softly down the waterfall, and the enormous, erupting volcano captivated us. Our hard work was completed and it was time to kick back, relax, and party. When the evening came to a close, we were left with vivid memories of a magical night in paradise.

Editors' Reflection

When we were chosen to be the editors of the yearbook we were skeptical about the amount of work that we would have to dedicate to the task of producing the best yearbook ever. We had heard all the rumors about the tedious, time-consuming job that encompassed being editors. We soon experienced the pressure that we would have to undergo in order to meet each deadline, thereby confirming the rumors to be true. We realized that our class was counting on us to successfully reflect the memories of the past four years in this book. With high hopes, and a little apprehension, we slowly pieced together the puzzle that, once completed, would be the 1996 Herald. Putting together this masterpiece proved no easy feat but with hard work and dedication we were able to produce a yearbook to remember.

The months of stress and hardship paid off when the yearbook finally arrived. With pride, we heaved a deep sigh of relief and opened the cover of the yearbook. Inside, we found that each page reflected the hard work that was put into it by us and the rest of the yearbook staff. We hope that you, too, will appreciate the book that we have put together so that you may always reflect back to your time at Windsor Locks High School. We would like to wish each of you the best of luck in all that you do and hope that you never forget the years you have spent in high school.

FACULTY

■ We would like to thank all of our teachers for their time and dedication to our education. ■

As the members of the Class of 1996 reflect upon their years at WLHS I know that you will do so with mixed emotions and a variety of reactions. As you review your individual and collective experiences of the past four years, I encourage you to do so, not as a reminiscence of the past, but as a guide to the future.

The ability to set goals, the perseverance to work hard to achieve those goals, and the character to demonstrate integrity when faced with obstacles are factors that determine the quality of your life. Your high school years have given you the opportunity to do all of the above and your reflections, if clear and true, will reveal various degrees of success. Build upon the success of the past to create your future. Learn from your disappointments how to be stronger and more discriminating in the choices you make. Above all, hold true to the values of family, community, service and continual self improvement.

As you reflect, be thankful for the kindness of others and be proud of the good you have done. Take the best of what you have learned from each other and challenge yourself to never be satisfied with less than your best. Your reflections should lead you to seek a new vision of the future. Use your abilities and energies to improve the quality of life for those around you. Best wishes to each of you—there are great days ahead.

Mr. C

A parting word from "A"-

Each of you has earned the necessary credits to graduate. Graduation brings with it major responsibilities; among them, becoming a useful, contributing citizen in society, exercising your right to vote, obeying the laws of our country and taking advantage of every opportunity given to you. Each of you will take from here some basic knowledge necessary to survive in today's hectic society. Each of your teachers, in his or her own way, has tried to set a positive example by being a role model for you. I hope you have gained something from each of them; I've learned from each of you; you've learned from each other and will continue to learn from others throughout life. Along with lifelong learning, it is most important to be kind to each other and to respect others. In return you will receive both kindness and respect. Life is too short to be unhappy, unsociable or dishonest. Therefore, you should pursue a career that will make you happy. I have tried to live my life by following these few simple ideas. I have given respect and received in return more than my share. I have tried to be kind and compassionate and have been rewarded for it in numerous ways. I am sure this is why I have survived in my position for so long.

I challenge each of you to gain control of your lives, use what you've learned here, formulate some goals, be kind to each other, respect others and their opinions and you will be well on your way to finding happiness.

Mr. A

Thank you, Mr. "A," for your many years of dedicated teaching, disciplining, and friendship.

"The general end therefore of all the book is to fashion a gentleman or noble person in virtuous and gentle discipline."—The Faerie Queen

The theme of the 1996 Herald, Reflections, applies not only to the departing seniors but also to our staff. As professional educators, the staff constantly reflects upon and reassesses its ability to meet the needs of its students.

With our principal, Steve Cullinan, as our guide, we are re-exploring what skills we want our students to demonstrate in order to take their place in the twenty-first century.

The world is changing at a rapid pace and we, the staff at WLHS, take seriously our responsibility to prepare our students to effectively meet the challenges and needs of the future. With the student at the center of all our conversations, we are creating a vision of what we want WLHS to be in years to come. Our vision will be a living, dynamic document that will guide everything that we do. We are excited about the impending changes and our commitment to them. As role models and mentors to our students, we, the staff of WLHS, watch our students grow and learn as we, too, reciprocally learn from them.

The Lunch Ladies

Janitors

We, the Class of '96, would like to thank Mr. Anastasia, Mr. Beaudry, Mr. Kausch, Mr. Oliva, and Mr. Robinson for their many years of dedication to the students of WLHS. We realize, with much appreciation, that it is teachers like these that have molded us into the people that we are today. They will be missed greatly!

My Sister Tracy,
You have followed well in my footsteps, but now you are off to a better and brighter future.

Best of luck in college.

J.D. -

P.S. Don't follow all of my footsteps!!!

Matt,

To our one and only son, you have been such a joy to us, and we are very, very proud of you.
Congratulations in all you have done. We wish you the best of health, the best of friends, and lots of love. Listen to your heart and you'll do the right thing. We love you very much.

Love,

Mom & Dad

Congratulations Brandon!
You've made us very proud,
now follow your dreams.

Love,
Mom, Dad, and Sara

Congratulations Shane!
You're a wonderful son,
and whenever we are tempted
to take all the credit,
We remember that all we did was guide you a little,
and you did the rest.
You reached high for your dreams and worked hard
for everything you've accomplished.
You're a wonderful person,
and it makes us proud
knowing you're our son...

So, with all the love in our hearts,
we wish you nothing but the best.

Love

Dad, Mom, Alissa & Jared

Jessica and Don,

The past four years went by too fast. We enjoyed watching you both grow to be special people. God made you cousins, you made each other best friends.

Enjoy college and remember we love you and will always be here for you.

COOL MAN - YOU DID IT
WAY TO GO, AL - PEACE - SCOOPY

Phil,

We are very proud of you. Thank you for sharing this special time in your life with us. We wish you happiness and success always.

*Love,
Barbara and Ed*

*Kim,
You have come a long way over the years. What ever happened to the shy little girl who would not get up to receive her nursery school diploma? Through the laughter, the fears and the tears, you have made each day a special one. We are proud of all your accomplishments that have made you the person you are today. We wish you the best of everything now and in years to come.*

*Love,
Mom & Dad*

Some things never change...our LOVE for you is one of them!

*Love,
Mom, Dad & Becca*

*Ryan,
Everything good in life we wish for you.
May all your dreams come true.*

*Love,
Mom & Dad, Chris & Sean*

Best of luck to Fred Kaplan and LV

Love,
Aunt Carol, Uncle Gary, Aunt Grace,
Noni, Tony, and Nicole

We're proud of all your accomplishments throughout your school years.
Best of luck, Carla, in your future endeavors.
Aunt Jan and Uncle Gary

HIS PLAN

*Are you sure?... Yes... God smiled, and His plan began...
 An infant girl possessing the gift of healing...
 A toddler attempting to revive dead flies in a bird bath...
 A kindergarten bookworm turns first grade social butterfly...
 a taekwondo red belt's integrity, and indomitable spirit...
 A haunted remote control car,
 and an inspired weeping willow...
 A 'Best Baddy' stretching out love's wings beyond the family...
 A humorous distraction... 'Vanna Wipe'...
 A fifth grader's unfinished novel... 'Memories'
 A strong and sensitive character expressed through music...
 An Eagle collection and Smooch...
 A circle of love: parents, sisters, grandparents, and beyond...
 At home... Kim, Marie
 Away... Donna, Dawn, and David... Loves' circle grows...
 A bedroom animal hospital... love for God's creation...
 A young lady: daughter, sister, grand daughter and friend...*

*Amie, in French your name means 'friend'...
 And how could we have known how appropriately named you'd be?
 A part of His Plan...
 And His plan continues...*

*You have made us smile
 You have made us cry
 You have made us proud*

*Our prayer is that you will Always cooperate with God's plan for your life
 You're off to a great start*

Fred
You've grown a few feet since your first WL graduation. Now, we have to look to you! We're very proud of you. We've enjoyed every minute! Pursue your dreams and follow your heart. best of everything with LV. We're behind
You. With all of our love, forever & ever!

Love
Dad, Mom, Diane, Eric, Gram,
Grandpa & Jen

Becky,

Sisters gotta stick together
and we always do
We did when we were little and we do now, too!
You're a great sister,
but also a great friend
Whenever you need me,
my hand is here to lend

Soon you'll be gone
and now will be the past
Since I don't want you to go,
time is going by fast
Through all the years,
the hardest thing I'll do
Is say good-bye to all these years and say good-bye to you
I love you and I'll miss you

Love always Tracey

Kevin,

We have watched you grow and mature into a fine young man. Set your sights on your goals and stride towards them, the glory is in the journey.

"You are our son of whom we love;
with you we are well pleased."

What is a Bargain?

Beware of advertisements which claim huge savings on diamonds. If a diamond is sold at a "bargain" price it is usually because it is an inferior gem. Our membership in the American Gem Society is your assurance of honest value. It costs no more and often less to buy your diamond from a reputable firm that cares about you.

As our high school years come to a close, we, the Class of '96, reflect upon our years at WLHS. We leave here with special memories, lasting friendships, high hopes, and, we admit, sadness and anxiety. Our futures are still unmapped; our goals are still unfulfilled; but our experiences at WLHS have prepared us to meet, with confidence, our futures, and so with determination, we attempt to fill our individual niches in life.

With high expectations we look toward the future, while fondly reflecting upon the past. Each member of the Class of '96 will follow a different path toward greatness, and, although our lives will be different and perhaps separate, we will always have our memories from WLHS to reflect upon. With mixed feelings we leave our familiar high school lives behind and pursue our uncertain futures, knowing that WLHS will always reflect the unforgettable greatness of the Class of 1996!
